GARMENT PLANT BLAST INJURES FIFTY WORKERS

$1,000,000 Property
Damage to Huge Building as Employees Arrive

BELIEVE REDS HAVE PART IN EXPLOSION

Powerful Gas Lighted by Spark One Theory of Blowup

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17, (P)—Fifty garment workers were injured and property damaged $1,000,000 Friday in an explosion which police believed was an act of sabotage growing out of labor troubles.

The eleven-story garment capital building was shattered by a blast on the fifth floor, shortly after hundreds of men and women workers had entered the building.

Only two victims were seriously hurt, the others being sent home after emergency treatment. Forty-four persons were treated for cuts from flying glass. Others, whose names were not taken, also were injured.

Fire flashed through the upper floors immediately after the blast, the shock of which caused damage to a number of buildings in the vicinity.

The building has been under police surveillance since a strike was declared by the International Garment Workers union seven weeks ago.

Activities of communist leaders in this strike were reported to the congressional committee investigating communism here last week. Police reports at that time said communists had fomented the strike and then had gone to work as strike breakers. Workers and police have clashed several times in the past month.

Police chemists were seeking to analyze traces of a heavier than air gas found between the fifth and sixth floors. They said the gas was similar to TNT.

The blast occurred at 7:15 a. m., just as employees of the building's two score garment making firms were filing in. Elevator shafts were closed.

LAMAR SCHOOLS TO GET $227,527

Over Quarter Million Will Be Spent by Schools
Of County

Common school districts of Lamar county will receive more than a quarter-million dollars this year, according to a statement from John S. Baker, county auditor, Mr. Baker said Friday that the per capita apportionment for the common schools of the county this year will total $122,257.50. Approximately $50,000 will be received in the form of state aid, and the local tax will amount to $65,000. This makes a total of $227,527.50.

This sum will be spent by the 91 white schools and 25 negro schools in the common school districts of the county. The greater part of this will go to pay salaries of teachers. Repairs to buildings, equipment, additional equipment and additional libraries will also be paid out of this fund.

Besides this amount there is a large sum that will come to each of the seven independent districts of the county which includes the city schools of Paris. All told, the amount spent for school purposes in the county this year will be close to a half-million dollars.

Mrs. Jones Leaves Hospital, Finds Not Poisoned

TEXARKANA, Oct. 17, (P)—While Bowie county authorities awaited a report Friday from chemists examining the viscera of Mrs. W. W. Sanders, 74, whose body was exhumed last Saturday, Mrs. Wiley Jones, 28, her granddaughter, was discharged from a Marshall hospital despite her insistence she had been poisoned.

Mrs. Jones was admitted to the hospital Friday after fainting on the street. She told physicians she had been poisoned and the same man had poisoned her grandmother. Four physicians declared they could find no evidence of poison, and District Attorney R. G. Waters and Sheriff Henry Brooks, Bowie county, after talking to Mrs. Jones, also expressed doubt she was poisoned.

FORMER TEXAN HELD AFTER STABBING MAN

SEWARD, Neb., Oct. 17, (P)—Vincent Bourdeau, formerly of Galveston, Texas, who fatally stabbed Jaffa Workman when he found Mrs. Bourdeau in Workman's car here Thursday night, entered a plea of guilty Friday afternoon to a charge of second degree murder. TAKE ANOTHER SUSPECT AS 'JIGGS' PERRY

HARRISON, Ark., Oct. 17, (P)—A smiling stranger was in custody here Friday night suspected of being George 'Jiggs' Perry, Wisconsin fugitive sought as the slayer of his 'want ad' bride. Two previous false identifications in this case caused police to proceed cautiously.

The man, who gave his name as Roy H. Thompson, was picked up Friday as he evidently prepared to leave Harrison by the same method of arrival—aboard a freight train. He remained here throughout the day at a boarding house, awaiting the return of his clothing from a cleaner.

Sheriff L. M. Martin told the Associated Press late Friday that certain particulars in information from Milwaukee, tallied with the man's description. There was enough variance, however, to give rise to serious doubt.

REPUTED GRAFT PAYMENTS OF CAPONE SEIZED

Records Show Alleged Payments to Police and Defective Forces

CHICAGO, Oct. 17, (P)—The reputed graft payments of 'Scarface' Al Capone's northwest side beer boss, were seized in a loop hotel raid Friday.

The beer boss, Frankie Lawler, was arrested, along with his wife. On him were found the records said to show payments to police, judges and politicians, one item was a $27.50 donation to a church.

There was another blow aimed at the Capone forces.

The business men's crime committee dragged out of the "quashed" heap an old indictment charging the Scarface with conspiracy with complicity in the murder several years ago of William McSwain, an assistant state's attorney.

The state's attorney office planned to seek a new indictment.

The recent disappearance of an "arrest sheet" from the detective bureau, found later in a southeast stronghold, was investigated by the grand jury.

Acting chief of police John H. Alcock, Capt. John Ryan, deposited as deputy sheriff of the detectives after the disappearance, and Sgt. William Bulwark, who prepared the list, were quizzed by the jurors. None of the three would make any statement but it was said Alcock termed Ryan's conduct "negligent."

NEW YORK, Oct. 17, (P)—The unknown gunman who did their best to "rub out" Jack "Legs" Diamond in the Hotel Monticello last Sunday not only poured four bullets into his frail frame, but gave him a terrific beating as well, doctors disclosed Friday.

X-ray photographs showed his collar bone was broken and three ribs.

MIDLAND, Oct. 17, (P)—Mrs. L. E. Remington of Midland, formerly of Fort Worth, told a story here Friday night of having married a man believed to be George (Jiggs) Perry several months ago and having been duped out of more than $4,000 and deserted.

After their marriage she agreed to disposal of her property, and he told her later he had done so, but she learned subsequently that he had sold for $4,800 property worth several times that amount.

After the sale, the couple went by automobile to Chicago, and on May 14 the man registered at the LaSalle hotel and took her to a room. There he left her.

She returned to Fort Worth and instituted an investigation to determine whether she could recover her property. Attorneys told her they believed the property could be recovered because of a technicality in signing the deeds, namely, the failure of the man to sign his own name.

BUSINESS MEETING
LEADS TO PROJECT
To Report To President
Ways to Increase Federal Activities

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17, (P)—Appointment of a cabinet committee to cope with unemployment during the winter was announced Friday by President Hoover.

The group, composed of Secretary Lamont, Davis, Wilbur, Hurley, Hyde and Mellon, and Governor Meyer of the Federal Reserve Board, is to formulate and submit to Mr. Hoover plans for continuing and strengthening organization of federal activities for increased employment.

The decision to name the committee came after a series of business conferences between the chief executive and financiers at which short selling on the stock market was one of the subjects discussed.

Thursday night Mr. Hoover conferred with Bernard M. Baruch, New York financier and chairman of the war industries board under President Wilson. Previously he had talked at the White House with the president and vice president of the New York stock exchange and other business leaders.

In naming the unemployment committee, the president said indications have been received from governors and mayors of a "general feeling of local responsibility and determination to meet the situation."

"As a nation we must prevent hunger and cold to those of our people who are in honest difficulties," he added.

Three roads were charged for the government activities: First, cooperation with the governors and employment organizations; second, development of methods with the national industries; and third, direct federal employment in public works.

QUAKE SHOCK
FELT IN CHILE

SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 17, (P)—A violent earthquake which apparently shook the entire Andean slope of Chile Friday morning caused at least one death and a score of injuries.

Apparently the quake caused widespread damage to buildings, and it was believed the casualty list may grow when all communities are heard from.

The one death reported was that of a woman, a hospital patient who left her bed in panic and died as she attempted to flee outdoor with others. Another woman at the same place suffered a broken leg. Six other persons were slightly injured.

LABOR TROUBLES COMPLICATE GERMAN SITUATION

Closing of 267 factories within Berlin's city limits with the strike of 140,000 metal workers, has added to the already complicated German political situation, tense since the opening of the reichstag, which was marked by rioting and street disorders. Chancellor Heinrich Brüning, right, heading a minority cabinet, is facing a hostile reichstag with his revised financial program and has sought support of minority parties for his measures against the extremist opposition. Reichstag building is shown above.

Facists Loose Pent-up Views In Reichstag But It Appears Non-Confidence Move Weak

BERLIN, Oct. 17, (P)—The government gave its enemies in the reichstag Friday a chance to loose the floodgates of their pent-up feelings and for many hours the fascists, notably, laid down the policies they wanted the republic to pursue for the solution of its pressing economic problems.

A fascist spokesman read into the record of parliament the views and prophecies which Adolf Hitler uttered a few weeks ago at a trial at Leipzig in which three reichstag members were accused, as fascists, of subversive propaganda in the army.

The speaker was Gregor Strasser. He propounded to a reichstag already thrown into confusion by hecklers, the "legal" revolutionary threats with which Hitler had caused nervousness throughout Europe.

It was the first time since dissolution of the previous reichstag July 13, that the opposition parties, particularly the left and right, had opportunity to air their grievances and make campaign speeches for the folks at home. Yet when all was said and done it became clear to discerning observers that the government had a good chance of defeating non-confidence motions which have been proposed from four quarters.

Not only did the government's bill authorizing a foreign credit of $125,000,000 pass its first and second reading, but former Chancellor Mueller's guarded statements showed that the social democrats, at least with their 143 members, were willing to help the government over the non-confidence crises and possibly also with adoption of its financial program in a somewhat modified form.

Winter Rides
In on Wings Of North Winds

By The Associated Press
A brisk wind whistled out of the north Friday, lowering temperatures sharply and carrying a promise even to the gulf that winter was at hand.

The United States weather bureau warned against frost in north Texas if the sky remained clear and forecast "colder" weather during the night.

From Miami in Roberts county came the first report of freezing temperatures for the season. The mercury dropped to 34 at Mule Shore and Plainview and to 26 at Amarillo and Clarendon.

The lowest temperature at Fort Worth Friday was 47 degrees. At San Antonio 64, at Houston 67, at Austin 60 with 59 degrees forecast by Saturday morning, at Abilene 44 and Corsicana 55.

At six p. m. the mercury at Galveston registered 75 degrees, but a fresh northeast wind was blowing and cooler weather was predicted by morning. At San Antonio the forecast was 52 degrees with rain Saturday.

Paris shivered slightly Friday as the first touch of winter was felt here. The minimum temperature was 45 degrees, with the forecast being continued cold with frost in Oklahoma that might extend to Texas by Saturday.

Rebels Ask Brazil Government Resign; Claim Take Itarare

BOTH SIDES SAY
WON AT ITARARE

Rebel Leader Suggests Fed-

By the Associated Press
Brazilian insurgent leaders, claiming the victory in battle of Itarare, important railway point of Sao Paulo state, have called on the federal government at Rio de Janeiro to resign or to accept the responsibility for further bloodshed in the civil war.

The federal authorities issuing a counter claim of victory in Itarare, and asserting the rebels have lost heavily, said they would refuse any proposal for dividing the country and had not entered into peace negotiations with the rebels.

Gen. Miguel Costa, rebel commander of the Sao Paulo front, asserted the federal troops were disorganized and he predicted the early fall of Sao Paulo, commercial metropolis of Brazil. He proposed that the minister of war send observers to the main battle area in military planes there to witness the resources of the rebels, promising they would not be harmed. He intimated they thus would see the full force of opposition and would return to the capital advising surrender.

President Washington Luis, in an interview, said Brazil was passing through anxious moments but he was convinced the insurgents would be defeated.

Both sides were agreed the battle at Itarare had been on a large scale.

The rebels also reported a rapid drive southward through the small town of Sergipe north of Bahia and claimed the surrender of two federal regiments in Minas Geraes. The federals, on the other hand, reported an advance "on all fronts" in Minas Geraes.

The United States cruiser Pensacola has been ordered to the port of Para, Pernambuco and Bahia, as a precaution for protection of American citizens and their property.

COOP HEADS WILL
WAGE CAMPAIGN
FOR ACREAGE CUT

Also Ask Moody Call Special Session; James Smith Present

DALLAS, Oct. 17, (P)—The board of directors of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association at a meeting here Friday pledged the organization to an active campaign for cotton acreage reduction through a program of land utilization for purposes other than cotton. The association also passed a resolution urging Governor Moody to call a special legislative session to consider drought relief.

During the discussion which preceded a vote on the cotton acreage reduction program, speakers pointed out that the farmer who plans to use all his labor, land and equipment for cotton can do so only with the full realization that he will take a loss unless the cotton market goes up.

Similarly, they cited, the bank or other agency furnishing production credits cannot hope to be repaid from cotton unless the market advances.

As one of the speakers put it, both the grower and the agency which furnishes him will embark this year on the project of raising cotton not in the hope of profit and security through good management and favorable insect and climatic conditions, but altogether in the hope of an advance in the market price of the commodity.

This was followed by the statement that such a policy was worse than buying cotton and holding it speculatively, because all the other elements of uncertainty of crop production were added to the market hazard.

It was the consensus that the real problem facing farmers of Texas by wholly in the utilization of land, labor and equipment in some manner other than in cotton production.

Officials said it was the obligation of the association, which will likely hold for its members' accounts more than 500,000 bales of this season's crop, representing 40,000 members, to keep the lead in putting into effect among its members as far as possible the program promulgated by Texas A. and M. college and endorsed almost unanimously by business interests throughout the state.

The board also discussed means of assisting farmers in drought-ridden sections of the state with production credits and by furnishing cotton seed and named a committee to investigate facilities for doing this.

Among those attending the board meeting was James A. Smith of Paris.

Special to The News

HUGO, Okla., Oct. 17.—United States Senator Thomas Carraway, of Arkansas, will speak at the court house in Hugo, Tuesday, October 21, at 8 o'clock p. m. on behalf of the state democratic ticket.

He has been given credit for having brought about, by means of speech before the senate, the investigation which resulted in the notorious Teapot Dome oil scandal disclosures. More recently his activities have been largely responsible for inquiries into election law evasions in several states.

Senator Carraway spoke in Hugo several years ago. Democratic leaders anticipate that his coming here will create considerable interest and that a large crowd will gather to hear him.

Information has been received that William H. Murray, Democratic nominee for governor will speak here Friday, October 21. No details as to the hour or place of his address have been announced. This will be one of Mr. Murray's final speeches of the general election campaign.

ECZEMA ALMOST UNBEARABLE Resinol Heals

"Some time ago eczema broke out on my leg. After weeks of special treatment during which time the itching and burning was so severe I could hardly stand it, I was told nothing more could be done for me. A friend of mine urged me to try Resinol Ointment, which I did. I am happy to say it healed my leg completely and I have never had any breaking out since. My husband also used Resinol for a rash on his hands with the same excellent results. We are never without it in our home." (Signed)—Mrs. E. France, Pawtucket, R. I.

Special Prizes Are Offered to Lamar Breeders

Special cash prizes are offered to Lamar county poultrymen showing the largest number of birds at the second annual East Texas poultry show which will be held here during Thanksgiving week.

Lamar county, although winner of the county prize at the 1929 East Texas Poultry show, is not competing for county honors this year.

Local poultrymen say that there are a number of high class flocks of poultry in Lamar county and a number of the owners are expected to show at the November exposition.

The coliseum building at the fair grounds will be decorated with Spanish moss, and during the show will take on a typical East Texas effect.

Ample space will be available for all entries. Space will also be available for flock matings. Practically all booth space has been sold, though there is a limited number of spaces left.

Entries will be received from practically all the 73 counties comprising the East Texas Chamber of Commerce territory, as well as from neighboring states. A minimum of 3,000 birds is expected.

Arrangements have been made to get the coliseum ready for the show the week before the show begins.

Many Parisarea Housewives To Attend Cooking School

Parisarea housewives, attention! Have you made complete plans as yet to attend this opening lecture of Mrs. Leona Rusk Thig, nationally famed culinary expert, who is being brought to Paris by The News to conduct the cooking school for four days, beginning Oct. 21. Those who miss the event of the year, will not have another opportunity soon, since this will be Mrs. Thig's only appearance in this territory during the present year, and indications at the moment are that it will be very difficult to secure her return next year because of the number of cities bidding for her services.

Absolutely free in every respect, the amazing contributions this remarkable woman will be able to make in the one short week she is here, will prove a revelation to every woman attending. Solutions of household finances, menu balance, actual cookery, economical buying, accompanied by a visual platform demonstration of each and every ceremony involved in the preparation of a meal that is as scientifically balanced as modern dieticians can provide, will tip over themselves in startling rapidity as this genius of the range and serving table fascinates her audience with a personality and knowledge of her subject that has been drawing crowds of thousands of the nation's best posted women, to her classes.

In few lines of endeavor and in few cities is such a remarkable ensemble of instruction, entertainment and education available without the slightest charge or obligation on the part of the women attending.

The attitude of thousands of interested women, as evidenced by the fever pitch of excitement on every hand regarding the marvelous personality and message of this great woman, indicates crowds that will test the capacity of the Museum auditorium to its limit. The doors will be open at 2. The lectures start promptly at 2.30. First come, will be first seated.

The News wishes to warn its feminine readers that every precaution has been taken to insure maximum seating capacity, but because of the unprecedented interest aroused, those eager to hear this famous woman should insure their attendance by arriving as early as possible.

When the recipe calls for 1/2 cup of shortening

When you measure shortening for your biscuits or cookies, have you ever stopped to realize that the family is going to eat that shortening? And when the piping hot-breads or dessert comes to the table, much of the goodness, much of the taste depends upon the shortening you use? So the shortening is just as important as any other food that you serve. You want it to be pure and fresh—good to eat all by itself.

Snowdrift is made from selected oil as choice as a fine salad oil. The Wesson Oil people have put a few extra pennies of quality into every pound, to have it just a bit nicer, just a bit better for you to eat. And its goodness is protected, sealed in an airtight can. You break the seal yourself—and find Snowdrift white and pure. And already creamed for you. It's the easiest thing in the world to cut into your dough or blend with your sugar. Right from the start it's easier to bake lighter and more delicious cakes and pies with Snowdrift.

Snowdrift is Down in Price

The price of Snowdrift is now lower than it has been for years. It costs very little to have a truly good-to-eat wholesome shortening for all your baking, for all your frying.

Do's and Don'ts of Cake Making By an Expert

(From C. I. A. Denton)

There are certain do's and don'ts the observance of which makes for greater success in cake making according to dietetics instructors of the Texas State College for Women.

Cream the fat and sugar well together. The real problem in cake making is to get the ingredients finely divided and thoroughly combined. Sift the baking powder, salt, and flour very thoroughly. More thoroughly incorporated baking powder means more even textured cake.

If the beaten egg white is to be folded in last, be sure that it is well mixed through the batter. When left in lumps, it destroys the even texture of the cake. When adding raisins, nuts or dried fruit, have them dry on the surface and well dredged with flour to prevent bunching and sinking to the bottom.

Melted chocolate is best added directly to the fat and sugar; it helps in the creaming process and is more evenly distributed through the batter.

19 Foot Stage Is Reached by Red Near Here

Reports from Arthur City at 8:30 Friday afternoon were that Red river had reached a stage of 19 feet, according to the government gauge on the traffic bridge there. The river is still rising, but not at the rate predicted Thursday. However it is the general belief that the stream will reach the flood stage of 21 feet some time Saturday.

The rise is reported slow, but the quantity of driftwood and trees coming down the stream is increasing. Highway officials have been watching the traffic bridge to prevent an accumulation of driftwood against it.

Should the waters reach the predicted 21 feet it will flood the low lands on the Oklahoma side of the river but will not seriously affect lands on the Texas side of the stream. The high water mark of 1923 was reached in 1926. At 27 feet, which stage was reached in 1923 and 1925 the water overflowed the highway on the Oklahoma side of the river.

He introduced Miss Aileen Haley who planned the program and presented the members furnishing the talent. Singing, dancing and readings were given by Misses Dorothy Brown, Mary Dorothy Kuykendall, Martha Min-ton and Norma Lee Campbell.

Dr. R. L. Lewis was cordially received as a new member of the club. He was presented by Jess McGill, president.

Following the club adjournment the directors held a session in which they decided to recommend to the club that an attendance challenge for a silver cup be accepted from the Rotary club at Paris, Ill., Paris, Kentucky, Paris, Tenn., and Paris, Arkansas.

Butterscotch Pie

Three egg yolks, one cup brown sugar, three and one-half tablespoons cornstarch, two cups milk, one-half teaspoon salt, three tablespoons butter, one teaspoon vanilla extract. Beat the egg yolks with sugar, mix cornstarch with a little water to make a smooth paste, add to first mixture, then add the milk and salt. Cook in double boiler until thick. Remove from fire, add butter and vanilla. Cool, add beaten whites of eggs, and reserve for a meringue. Pour the baked crust. If meringue is used, spread on top and return to oven to brown. Otherwise spread on top with sweetened whipped cream. Some housewives like to add sliced bananas or chopped nuts to this recipe.

Veal With Mushrooms

Buy veal from shank, about two pounds. Cut in pieces two by three inches, roll in salted flour, sear in hot fat, but do not brown. Place in a deep saucepan with a bay leaf, one tablespoon of tarragon vinegar, one dozen small white onions and boiling water to cover. Cook for 40 minutes or until tender. Remove the veal and onions, and add one-fourth pound of sliced mushrooms and cook five minutes more. Lastly add one-half cup cream or top milk and two tablespoons of melted butter. Add salt and pepper to taste. Roast is made by combining flour and fat in the proportion of one to one-half. Spoonfuls of fat to one tablespoonful of flour and cooking time is reduced to 15 minutes. Add a very low fire. Add citrus salt and sugar, continue cooking for half an hour.

Meat Tidbits

One pound beef without fat or gristle, two onions, one-fourth cup water, one-half teaspoon allspice, one cup tomato sauce, salt, pepper to taste, one-fourth teaspoon citrus salt, one tablespoon sugar. Slice onions and add together with water, tomato sauce, allspice, salt and pepper. Boil for 10 minutes. Cut meat into small squares and stew in sauce for an hour and one-half over a very low fire. Add citrus salt and sugar, continue cooking for half an hour.

Quick Breakfast Cake

One and one-half cups pastry flour, two and one-half teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg or nutmeg, one-fourth cup sugar, one egg (unbeaten), two tablespoons melted butter, one-half cup milk. Mix together dry ingredients, add egg (unbeaten), melted butter and milk and mix. Bake 30 minutes.

TRIFLES THAT HELP THE HOUSE WIFE

When making jellies you will find it is an excellent idea to use a small tea strainer to strain the jelly. It is very quickly done without the slightest waste of juice.

You will save time and burnt fingers if when canning you dip the rubber in hot water and fit to jar before the jar is filled.

A good way to teach the children to do and like housework is to let them draw slips on which is written some duty to perform. Call it a new game.

Before serving tea or coffee, put a few drops of water in each saucer, just enough to moisten it. This will prevent the cups from slipping around on the saucers.

Heavy cream makes the most satisfactory mousers and parfaits. To reduce the richness mix it with evaporated milk and thin cream, or rich milk thickened with eggs, gelatin or flour.

SWEET POTATOES AND APPLES EN CASSEROLE

Four medium sweet potatoes, three apples, salt, pepper, butter, brown sugar, nutmeg. Cook the potatoes in their jackets until tender. (This may be done the day before.) Slice the cooked potatoes into a casserole, and alternate with layers of sliced raw apple, finishing with apple on top. On each layer of potatoes, sprinkle salt and pepper, and dot with butter, and on each layer of apples, sprinkle brown sugar and nutmeg. No liquid is needed for the apples will provide this as they cook. Bake in the oven for a half or three-quarters of an hour, until the apples are soft and the potatoes have reheated thoroughly.

Sales Day is Expected to Break Record

Judging from the comments heard on all sides next Monday promises to be the most successful and most largely attended Farmers Sales and Trades Day held in Paris. Monday marks the eighteenth month since this event was inaugurated by the business interests and chamber of commerce in Paris, and it has become recognized and looked forward to by people all over Parisarea.

Col. Byron Kelly, who has conducted the auction sales since this event was inaugurated, stated Friday that with weather conditions propitious, he is confident of a record breaking attendance and a record breaking auction sale. Col. Kelly also said that the largest number of animals in the eighteen months would be offered for sale Monday, to supplement the various articles that Paris business men will present for sale.

Col. Kelly said that a large number of horses and mules to be offered have arrived in Paris. The stock that will be offered for sale Monday is the best that has ever been presented. Most of the mules, horses and cows are of the best quality, he stated. "If the buyers are here, it will break all sales records."

Season with salt and pepper and serve on platter with parsley.

Chicken Fricassee

A chicken fricassee is an economical dish, for if quick or raised dumplings are added we can have boiled potatoes and one vegetable to make the dinner. Then what is left may be picked from the bones and cut into the remaining gravy sliced boiled potatoes may be added and with a few quick dumplings added we will have a fine luncheon next day.

THE CURE BEGINS IN THE KITCHEN

So MANY people suffer from constipation. It steals health and happiness. They spend millions of dollars yearly on pills and drugs.

That's the wrong way to try to cure constipation. The right way is to correct the diet—to add enough roughage to your food to sweep the poisons out of your system.

PARIS HAS THE EDGE

TOUCHING the difference that arises between towns and public service corporations, the Whitewright Sun says:

"When the Sherman City Commission granted the Northern Texas Telephone Co., a renewal of its franchise recently, the company agreed to construct a new building and rebuild its system in that city. Having made no move in that direction, the city commission requested the company to begin its building operations and the company came back with the proposition that if the commission would grant the company a twenty-five per cent increase in rates the promised building program would be carried out. The commission rejected the proposal and we suppose Sherman will have to be content with the present telephone facilities."

It would appear that the franchise renewal was in writing and the building promise just a "gentlemen's agreement" else surely the Sherman commission could insist on the agreement being carried through.

This is no new situation. Paris had a similar one when the Texas and Pacific station was built here. Officials of the road came to Paris and asked permission to close South Main street with their building, at the same time exhibiting an architect's highly colored drawing of a magnificent station with a tower and a clock that could be seen from the Plaza. They did not agree in writing to build this house but stated it was the house they "expected" to build in Paris—and the city at the urge of the board of trade, gave the road the right to build across the street, and we got what we now have—a very good building but not what was tacitly promised when the application was made to close the street.

City Solicitor Edgar Wright was eminently correct when he told the city council the time to regulate public service corporations was when the franchise was granted. Happily, Paris has a charter that permits of reforming or revoking franchises at any time, and it would appear that this city is not entirely helpless.

IT WOULD BE EFFECTIVE

AT last we appear to be getting somewhere, or at least the road for getting somewhere is pointed out and by no less an authority than George W. Wickersham, chairman of President Hoover's crime commission.

Chairman Wickersham, addressing the Prison congress at Louisville, Ky., said it would be advisable for that body to make careful inquiry into the merit of flogging as a punishment for banditry and racketeering.

It is not at all probable that the Prison congress will do this—in fact it is certain they will not do it unless strong pressure is put forth to counteract the "humane" demands of our letter-day prison reformers. But state legislatures can act, and should act.

Whipping as a punishment for crime is no more brutal—not nearly so brutal, in fact—as many of the crimes that are committed and punished but lightly, if at all. And whipping would not only be cheap, in that all the cost would be a small fee to the sheriff and no feeding in jail or penitentiary; but it would be the greatest deterrent both for the criminal and for others who were minded to break into the game.

Imagine one of our prominent bootleggers, for instance, trying to stand around on the streets, after Sheriff Walling had laid it on him according to law! He would be laughed out of town and others would think of the swish of the whip and would go to work or to another place where such a danger did not threaten their "business."

Whether Mr. Wickersham's committee has discovered anything of value remains to be seen, but he at least is thinking along the right lines.

FOR THE FARMER

IT is announced that the salvaging of old macadam and gravel roads and the building of farm-to-market roads as a farm relief measure, a stimulant to employment, a means of increasing the amount of freight handled by the railroads and a traffic relief aid on congested highways, will be featured subjects at the Ninth Annual Asphalt Paving Conference to be held in Memphis, Tennessee, from December 1 to 5. These problems will be discussed by authorities from American Farm Bureau Federation, American Automobile Association, American Association of Railway Executives and others.

One of the "real" agricultural problems is lack of adequate, year-round road facilities. The average farmer is cut off from the outside world during months of each year by impassable roads which become a series of mud-holes with the first rains. It has been demonstrated that long-wearing, weatherproof surfaced roads can be constructed and maintained in rural districts at a low cost by various asphaltic and road oil processes.

If the coming road conference accelerates secondary road construction, it will have done more for the farmer than theoretical "farm relief" experts.

This talk of harnessing the atom has been going on for a long time. And all we have so far is a midget car and pygmy golf.—Toledo Blade

Who's Who—Timely Views

BUYING OF ARTIFICIAL FOODS DISCOURAGED

By R. W. Dunlap

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture

WITH the cries of drouth have come rumors that foodstuffs would be scarce. Immediately in some sections there was an attempt to boost the retail prices entirely out of proportion with the normal rise in wholesale prices. I think it would be well to discourage any unwarranted tendency toward price raising that is occurring now or will occur in the near future.

We read in the newspaper almost every day how some chemist or food expert has devised a substitute for a staple food which is even better than that which nature provides and at a lower cost. Usually we discover, on closer investigation, that the substitute has its faults. The food value is less, the flavor is not as pleasing and the price is not materially lower.

Does it pay to use the artificial product? No, I say. I will back up that with figures. The food and drug administration of our department, investigating genuine and artificial jams and preserves, found that a genuine preserve was selling at 25 cents a pound, while a commercially prepared compound artificially flavored and colored was selling for 25 1/2 cents a pound. Analysis showed that the genuine product contained 7.5 ounces of fruit, the rest was sugar. The compound contained less than four ounces of fruit—about half as much fruit.

The restaurateur who desires uniformity from day to day in the steaks he serves need no longer have an expert meat judge in his employ, he need only buy his meats on specification of government standard.

Despite the efforts of some food establishments to concoct new and unusual menus, meat still remains the central item around which the average meal is built. This being true, its purchase, preparation and serving is a matter of vital importance. Here is the solution of your problem of maintaining a uniform standard of excellence in the meat you serve.

Probably no single thing would contribute more to placing meat consumption on a reasonable and stabilized basis than to bring about a situation in which the meat consumer would always be certain to get exactly what he expects in the way of grade and quality.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

CHILDREN AND DISH PANS

From the Corpus Christi Times:

COMPULSORY dishwashing never puts a rainbow 'round the dishpan. But it does have a lot to do with that chronic business of being too tired to wash the dishes. Just the same, mothers can't seem to break themselves of the habit of putting tea towels in their daughters' hands and suggesting that they wash the cups and saucers and brush the crumbs away.

But now Miss Marion S. Van Liew, chief of the Home Economics Education Bureau of the University of New York City, has cast her influence with the daughters. Mothers are all wrong. Compulsory dishwashing, according to Miss Van Liew, has given millions of girls a drab outlook on home economics. It has made them hate housework. And it is all their mothers' fault.

Still—with a large family that must be fed three times a day, to say nothing of after-school bread-and-butter-and-jelly sandwiches, it isn't always possible for a mother to attend to the cleansing of the plates if she would darn the family socks, sew on the family buttons, wash and iron and scrub and sweep and dust and bake and stew and nurse and market and plan the menus and tell the agents that she isn't interested in anything to day!

Of course, if Sally and Sue and Mary didn't have to assist in the cleansing of the dishes they would have the thrill of novelty when they dip their own rosebud china into the foamy suds.

It is a sad state of affairs. If modern labor-saving devices can't strengthen the case for the after-dinner exercises there seems little to be done about it—except let the mothers attend to the ablutions of the china.

Dishwashing used to be something that every normal girl had along with measles and mumps and chickenpox. Now it would appear that it should be banished from the childhood ailments along with the other hindrances to health and freedom.

There is nothing to do, apparently, but let the mothers perform the purification rites for the porcelain and dresden—unless common sense arises to remark that children don't always need quite as much coddling as the experts seem to think.

UN SOUND FARM FORECASTS

From the Asheville Times:

THE course of farm prices in the last three weeks is a summary negative answer to the argument, put forward early in August, that the drouth's destruction of crops would mean better prices on the farm.

On August 18 the average prices for all farm products was 30 per cent lower than it was a year ago, according to the United States department of agriculture. Prices for corn and hay did advance, but the farmers for the most part use their corn and hay and buy these commodities to feed their livestock.

Another adverse factor in this situation is the forced sale of livestock by farmers who lack feed stuffs and these sales have been made at lower figures.

As some economists point out, it is probable that in time the shortage of food for livestock will be reflected in higher prices for livestock, unless something happens in the meantime to upset the logical development.

ANOTHER COUNTY HEARD FROM

Guiding Your Child

DISCIPLINE BY LOVE

By Mrs. Agnes Lync

Discipline by the rod or its equivalent in coercion brings one set of evils, and discipline by a dominating and compelling love brings another.

Occasionally one sees children whose entire behavior down to the smallest detail is dictated by a mother whom they adore with an unquestioning and uncritical love. If this mother happens to be wise as well as loving, she trains her child to habits and attitudes of serviceable nature that he slides through the years of childhood and youth with little difficulty.

He naturally gets on well with those in authority. He is courteous, industrious and friendly. He is perhaps apparently well adjusted to those of his own age.

But with his entrance upon adult life he is confronted with problems which demand of him initiative and independent action. He is at a loss. He is not equipped for First Aid Sunday Guiding self direction or the pursuit of his own objectives. He does not know how to carry on save under the leadership of benevolent authority.

To teach a child to follow too submissively even the wisest and most loving guidance is no kindness.

The best parent is one who uses his child's faith in him as a stepping stone to self reliance. He is careful not to permit his own wishes and prejudices to exercise too great an influence on his child's growing individuality.

Do not bring up your child so that your approval or disapproval are matters of life and death to him. Guard against the devastating effects of the need to stand well with you at all costs. Make your criticisms and corrections as impersonal as possible.

Emphasize the objective consequences of wrong doing rather than your own hurt and disappointment at his misbehavior.

A NEW YORKER AT LARGE

By Mark Barron

NEW YORK, (AP)—As long as the city fathers have undertaken such improvements as new subways and elevated avenues, they might consider another outstanding need of New York.

That is Pullman cars, for the subways. Something should be done about this problem as it now is very uncomfortable for those who seek their rest on the underground cars.

There is a vast army of these sleek gentlemen who improve the subway as their hotel. It costs them nothing and, with the aid of pillows made from newspapers, they do very well.

Of course, there is the inconvenience of waking up every hour or so and changing cars.

For instance, a weary fellow may board a subway on Long Island and stretch out for a nice sleep. He dozes away as the train moves through Brooklyn, under the East river and up Broadway toward Van Cortlandt Park.

After about 50 minutes of riding he must get off at 96th street, walk across the platform and board another train back.

Thus for the price of five cents he may sleep all night long.

Of course, the open air friends do their sleeping on the elevated trains. But the "el" doesn't extend as far as the subway so they must arouse themselves oftener.

Gotham Rulers

Now that former Ambassador Gerard has selected his list of men who rule America, this department feels that it should submit its list of those who rule New York.

They are Mayor Walker, at Smith, Otto H. Kahn, August Heckscher, Grover Whalen, Florence Ziegfeld, Norman Thomas and Babe Ruth.

Mr. Smith heads most of the projects for the commercial improvement of the city.

Mr. Kahn is the inspiration of most of the major enterprises in the various arts.

Mr. Whalen greets all the distinguished visitors and sees to it that they like our little town.

Mr. Ziegfeld is czar of the beautiful showgirls, and Mr. Ruth has all the kids of the town at his command.

Mr. Heckscher directs many local charity projects and Mr. Thomas is king of that ubiquitous defeated legion that seeks radical changes in anything.

And Mayor Walker runs everything else in town with the aid of our traffic cops and head waiters.

Beauty Ignored

Not all the beautiful girls who come to New York rely upon that advantage for their career. Frequently these beautiful girls have brains, too, and employ those for their livelihood.

On one of the Long Island movie lots there is a charming girl who rates very highly as a technical director in the films. She is also famed as a beauty and has been offered important roles.

But she chooses to build up her career with her brains and intelligence, for she realizes these will be with her after her beauty has gone.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

Insulin was discovered in 1921 by an orthopedic surgeon and a medical student. It is an extract of the special islet of Langerhans cells in the pancreas, the source of a destruction of which is the cause of diabetes.

It is now marketed as a clear liquid, put up in small bottles and can be obtained in various strengths.

The dosage is in measured units. A unit of insulin will burn from 1 1/4 to 4 grams of sugar in the body. Individuals vary in the amount of sugar a unit of insulin will burn in their bodies. There appears, also, to be some variation in the amounts under different circumstances—at rest or with exercise, when sick with a cold, etc.

It must be given under the skin with a hypodermic needle and syringe. Patients can easily learn to give it to themselves. Children of nine years can be taught to administer their own insulin. It often has to be taken three times a day. There is no prospect, in the present state of our knowledge, which indicates that a patient who requires insulin will ever be able to stop taking it. It is a lifetime job.

The hope is that some substance which burns sugar will be discovered which can be taken by mouth. Two such substances, myrtilin and synthiline, have been tried, but cannot be said to have been great successes.

These insulin reactions should be avoided if possible. Insulin should, for that reason, be administered before meals.

It has been the greatest boon that was ever conferred on those compelled to lead the diabetic life.

A WASHINGTON BYSTANDER

By Kirke Simpson

WASHINGTON (AP)—How ran that old jingle of fatherly admonition to a young son to "be good" because—

"Some day ya may be pres-i-dint. Or a gen'ral in th' army-m-y."

Yes, that was it. And a lot of fond parents seem still to hold out that dream of either political or military preferment as a spur to the ambition of young America. It shows up in the way they name their sons after presidents and such.

Who knows how many namesakes of Teddy Roosevelt his spectacular career brought about? How many young chaps born around the late 60's were named for Lincoln, Grant, Jefferson Davis or Robert E. Lee? How large a crop of Woodrow Wilsons did the world war period produce?

Nobody knows, yet the Bystander has stumbled on a list in the files of one world war figure that does give an idea of the extent to which this business of naming youngsters for the great folks of the historical period in which they were born is carried.

—And Snapshots

The record is in the files of General John Pershing. It lists some 700 or more boys and a few girls born during or just after the war who were named in his honor.

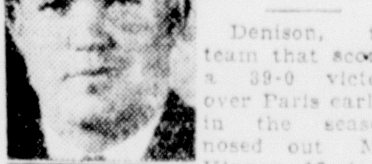

The parents wrote him about it, usually sending snapshots of the baby along. He got such communications even in France. Occasionally the mother who wrote had a grown son serving with the A.E.F. Those letters held special significance for the general.

Gridiron CATS CLAW BULLDOGS FOR 25 TO 0 WIN

Gossip

By Dub Furey

If the Wildcat coaches were not satisfied with the performance of their charges Friday they must be hard to please. The Cats looked most impressive in their 25-0 victory over Valliant, a strong club, but one that was completely outclassed Friday. The Cats are now turning their attention to McKinney, whom they meet next Friday in a District 3 contest at McKinney.

Denison, the team that scored a 39-0 victory over Paris earlier in the season, posed out McKinney 13 to 6 Friday in the Collin county seat in the game that was generally accepted by scores over Northeast Texas as the championship contest in District 3. McKinney will be hard to handle at home, but at the same time the Cats will be "primed" for this battle.

Wrong again—Valliant's ace was Farmer—not Smith, as has been stated. Well, the Valliant Tribune mentioned Smith so much in their accounts that it seemed he was the man. But, alas, there was no Mr. Smith with the Valliant team here. At any rate, whether his name was Smith or Farmer, he was good but the Wildcat forward had him well smothered most of the afternoon.

THE Corsicana Tigers, one of the strongest teams in District 4 and rated by some as state championship contenders, turned in an impressive 40-0 victory over Polyschnie of North Friday. Looks like Johnny Pierce has another good eleven, with the sensational Stamps, all-stars guard in 1935, one of the leading lights of the machine. While all this was going on Highland Park of Dallas just about clinched the "north" half of the District 3 race by trouncing Ft. Worth Central 20 to 6.

OTHER football games of interest in this city saw Wesley college of Greenville, with whom our Dragons tangle on November 14, run roughshod over the Decatur Baptist college eleven. The final score was 40 to 0. Apparently Wesley has another fine machine this fall, as Decatur is usually among the leaders in junior college football in the state.

SEEN tramping about Wise field Friday afternoon was Pat Patterson, Dragon end, who has been ill for about two weeks. Pat says he is going to be ready for the North Texas game next Friday. He looked to be eked after his illness, and with a week of practice he will not doubt be ready to battle the Aggies for at least a part of the game. The return of Patterson will give the Dragons four capable ends, Withers, Clements and Lewis being the other three.

Today is the big day for football throughout the south. The spotlight will be focused on Dallas, where, at Fair Park stadium, the University of Texas and the University of Oklahoma will come to grips for the twenty-fifth time in the history of the two schools. The Sooners have not won a game from the Longhorns since 1919, but are accorded a fine chance of turning that trick in today's game. One of the largest crowds ever to see a college football game in the south is expected to be present for the kickoff, with upwards of 30,000 being the latest estimate on the attendance. Oklahoma is still our favorite to win.

DOWN south from the "city of the hour" another important battle—one that will have much bearing on the outcome of the Southwest conference race—will be raging. At Waco Coach Ray Morrison's Gallopers herd, otherwise the Southern Methodist University Mustangs, will be at grips with Morley Jennings' Baylor University Golden Bears. The Mustang aerial display is being counted on to bring them victory over the Bears in their own back yard, but Coach Morrison is admittedly worried over his chances for a victory and is taking every precaution to avoid his cohorts being defeated—in fact he took his entire squad with him.

The T. C. U.-A. & M. game at College Station will probably be the day's best from the standpoint of real fight. The Aggies and the Frogs love one another not one molecule, and a victory is considered by each team as most comforting. The game will doubtless see Matty Bell's oft-flicked thrusters matched with the speed of Leland Oliver and Co. and the passing of Woolwine and other Frog backs.

A DISPATCH from Fayetteville Friday said that Holmes, regular Rockne quarterback, may not be in the starting line-up Saturday when the team takes the field against Jack Meagher's Rice Owls. Meagher, like his famous coach, Rockne, is using the "shock troop" style of football. If he starts his "shock troops" against the Rockers they are likely to be in for a rude shock—the troops and Meagher alike.

Carnegie Tech will likely beg us by eight or nine touchdowns—Knute Rockne. Well, at any rate, the odds Friday were even on the Tartans to beat the Fighting Irish, but our money, if we had any, would be on the Hard Rock's Horde. Apparently Knute is having a hard time bringing his team to a fighting pitch for the game and he figured such a statement as the one quoted would do it. These football coaches have queer methods of doing things. Imagine depending on a newspaper to arouse a football team.

Paris Running Attack Clicks All Afternoon As Line Holds Ground

By Dub Furey

Flashing a running offense that clicked smoothly all afternoon, the Paris High Wildcats of Coaches Peter Barnett and Bob Berry routed the Valliant Bulldogs 25 to 0 Friday afternoon on Wise Field. The outcome was never in doubt, even though the Cats were held scoreless in the first period, as the locals plowed through the Canine line for repeated long gains on running plays. So completely did the Cats outplay the Bulldogs that the visitors made only 3 first downs, as compared to 15 for the locals.

The first touchdown came in the second period when Odum crashed through the middle of the line from the one yard line after Ritchie had placed it there on a thrust of tackle. The Cats had recovered the ball when Farmer, big Valliant back, fumbled on his own 33 yard line. Webb and Ritchie alternated carrying the smash that netted about one yard. Evans place kicked the extra point and the parade had begun. Throughout the remainder of the second period the Cats continued to outplay the Bulldogs, piling up six more first downs to make ten for the first half to none for the invaders. Neither side threatened seriously in the second period, although the visitors had the ball on Paris' 20 yard line when the half ended after covering a fumble.

Cats Score Again Receiving the kickoff on his own 10 yard line to open the second half, Evans returned the oval to the 43 yard stripe to begin a scoring march. A pass from White, netted 33 yards, only to have Ritchie lose it on the next play when he fumbled the ball and finally kicked it out of bounds on the Valliant 41 yard line. Another pass, this time to Ritchie with Evans doing the throwing, was good for another 33 yards. After a pass, Evans to White had been incomplete, Evans tossed three yards to Ritchie, who ran the remaining 30 yards for a touchdown. Odum carried out the last Valliant secondary on this play, which was beautifully executed, a reverse being used to put Evans back to pass.

After Gantt, who played a bang-up good game all afternoon at guard, recovered a fumble on the Valliant 29 yard line, Ritchie and Evans alternated carrying the ball with Evans going over on a spin play from the one foot line, where Ritchie had placed it on the play before. A backward pass or intended backward pass, Ritchie to Webb, had netted a touchdown a short time before but the pass was ruled illegal and the Cats penalized five yards. The extra point was missed, making the score Paris 19, Valliant 0 the quarter ending with the count unchanged.

It was in the third period that the first Valliant down was registered. Farmer, on two successive thrusts at his left guard, carried the ball over for a first down, but on the next play Guest was smothered by Ivy and Gantt for a yard loss and two plays later they were forced to punt. The final Wildcat touchdown came in the last quarter. After Farmer had punted out to his own 33 yard line, Odum made a yard center, Ritchie picked up two yards and then Dawson, on his first effort, tore off 13 yards through his right tackle, to have Evans rip through the same hole on the next play for eight more, placing the ball on the two yard stripe. Ritchie then slipped off left tackle for the touchdown, concluding his work for the day. A pass, Evans to White, failed to gain the extra point.

Ritchie-Webb Outstanding Ritchie and Webb, the Wildcats' ace ground gainers, continued their fine play in Friday's game. Both were loose for repeated long gains. Ritchie getting two markers. Evans, who has been injured for the last two weeks, was loose several times Friday, gaining more ground than in any previous game as well as turning in a smart exhibition of field generalship for a high school quarterback.

In front of the lightning like thrusts of Ritchie and Webb, most of which were made off the Cats' right tackle, were Frank Ivy at the right tackle post, with Knox at guard, and Gantt at right end. This side of the line opened repeatedly yawning holes in the Valliant line through which the backs galloped for long gains. The Bulldogs' nearest approach to a scoring threat came in the final period after Ivy had been removed, injured, and Knox replaced him in the line. But the reserves arose to the occasion, and with the ball on the five yard line and four downs to make the distance they turned back the Bulldogs, with Bentley at center, Anderson at end and Fletcher at Ivy's tackle. Hale tackled Farmer, who caught a pass on the 1 yard line, and then the middle of the line stopped Farmer cold on the fourth down, just as Evans punted out the gun fired, ending the game.

There was no particularly outstanding star in the Wildcat line, the entire forward wall functioning as a well oiled machine on offense and a veritable stone wall on the defense. The work of Gantt at guard, along with that of White at left end and Akard and Ivy at the tackles was consistently good, with each occasionally flashing a brilliant play. Fenter played a consistent game at center while Knox made his presence felt by his splendid blocking on Ritchie's and Webb's long jaunts. Few substitutions were made. Bentley, LeDuke, Connor, Anderson, Hale and Dawson seeing serv-

FROGS WORKOUT FOR AGGIE GAME

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 17

Twenty-seven Texas Christian University students, accompanied by Coaches Francis Schmidt and Bear Wolf, arrived Friday for the game with the Texas Aggies Saturday.

The Frogs went through a brief practice and will spend the night in Bryan. The rest of the squad will arrive with the T. C. U. students on special trains Saturday. Matty Bell's Aggies completed a week of hard drill with light practice and with the exception of Dawson and Maxwell, injured tackles, they are in good condition for the contest.

CHAMPIONSHIP FOSTERS ROMANCE

A couple of world championships will be kept in the family, it appears, with the announcement of the marriage, in Oklahoma City of Miss Frances Smith, Geary, Okla., 1925 world's champion 4-H club member, and Ford Mercer, Wellston, Okla., 1924 world's champion 4-H club member. Their romance began when Mercer delivered the Horace C. Moses cup for leadership in club work, which he had won the previous year, to Miss Smith.

Bertha Stotts Thornton, of the Bryn Mawr avenue address, wrote about Gutt.

But Gutt, like all cats, lacked that true sense of fidelity, and strayed away, and so Pusiewicz came into Mrs. Thornton's life. Mrs. Thornton is a lover of animals, and a believer in the theory that animals—particularly dogs and cats—are quite as human as people. By that reasoning she feels that animals have a right to be listed in the telephone directory, and so far as Pusiewicz is concerned, she's correct. Some years ago Mrs. Thornton's favorite pet was a cat, called Gutt. Cat Gutt, who appeared in the telephone book, and even had a checking account in the First National bank. Out of this account Mrs. Thornton deducted $3.50 a week for board. The bank fund was replenished from time to time with money earned by Mrs. Thornton from magazine stories which she

THREE SOUTHWEST RACE TILTS WILL BE PLAYED TODAY

SMU, Crippled Will Have Hard Tussle; Texas Expected Fight Hard

By Gale Talbot, Jr.

Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 17. (P)—They said, in effect, before the present football campaign began, that the Southern Methodist University eleven had too many eggs in its basket. What they meant was that the Mustangs would find it tough playing Notre Dame and the Navy and then trying to win a Southwest Conference crown.

The theory will be given an exciting test Saturday, when the Ponies open their conference campaign against the Baylor University Bears at Carroll Field, Waco. Two of their outstanding stars, Weiden Mason, halfback, and Powell, center, will be on the sidelines as the result of knee injuries received in the Notre Dame tussle two weeks ago.

With Mason and Powell in shape the Red and Blue tricksters would rate undeniable favorites. With the pair out, it promises to be a hair-raiser the result depending entirely on Baylor's success in throttling the Methodist's passing offense. If the Ponies succeed in beating the Bears Saturday, crippled as they will be, they can just about be put down as the next conference champions.

Baylor's veteran team is in top shape and primed to the limit. Reports say the Bruins look 20 per cent stronger than when they played Purdue a fortnight ago. Jake Wilson who was handicapped by a lame back against the Hollermakers, is in the pink and will be a constant threat from his quarterback post. The Bears are confident they will repeat their feat of two years ago, when they noised out a supposedly stronger Mustang team, 2 to 0. In that tilt the Pony passers were rushed off their feet, and that is the plan of battle prescribed by Coach Jennings for Saturday's melee.

The champion Texas Christian University unit has incurred not a single injury of consequence and will be at full strength against the Texas Aggies at College Station. Having overwhelmed Arkansas last week, 40 to 0, the Frogs are out ahead of the conference pack again, just as they were all last season. A victory Saturday over the Aggies who are pretty well used up after successive beatings by Nebraska and Tulane, would keep the Christians a jump ahead. Their powerful exhibition against Arkansas installed the Frogs as favorites for Saturday's bout.

The University of Texas Longhorns and Oklahoma Sooners held the intersectional spotlight for the week as they renew their 30-year rivalry in the new fair park bowl here. More than half of the stadium's 48,000 seats are expected to be filled, the two schools boasting the greatest turnout of any of the southwest. More than 1,000 fans were expected to accompany the powerful Sooner eleven, and the Longhorn school will be similarly represented.

Oklahoma's decisive victory over

Nebraska last week caused the invaders' stock to bound high for several days, it being variously predicted that they would win by from two to five touchdowns. Ensuing reports from Austin, however, to the effect that the Longhorns had just been "funning" in the preliminaries and were preparing to shoot both barrels this week caused a sharp slump in Sooner, preferred. The Steers are expected to rely on their strong running attack, featuring Shelly and Koy, while the Sooners probably will bank on their aerial game to a large extent. The week's third conference contest was scheduled at Fayetteville where the twice-beaten Arkansas Razorbacks entertain Rice Institute's undefeated, united Owls. Barring an upset, the Owls look good for their first conference victory since 1927.

Baylor-SMU Game On Palace Card

WACO, Oct. 17. (P)—The Southern Methodist University-Baylor football game and finals in the $3,000 terrapin derby will head the attractions at the Texas Cotton Palace exposition here Saturday. The cotton palace will close Sunday with at least three drivers competing for the international dirt track championship.

POLO STARS LEAVE FOR MEXICO CITY

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 17. (P)—A picked team of Texas polo stars, including Cecil Smith and Rube Williams, recent candidates for the American team that engaged the British in an international series, will leave here Saturday for Mexico City to play a series with a strong Mexican army team.

CHAPTER 45.

Kitty had made no real decision as to what she was going to do about Gordon. Matters had rushed too much for her to settle her own mind. She had no doubt that she was through; Gordon could have no defense.

But whether to see him and tell him so, write him and forget him—ah, how could she forget?—or merely refuse to see him, read his letters or communicate with him, were questions she had not answered. Every decision she had made had been supplemented by another!

Now she was faced with the necessity of deciding between breathes; of answering this urgent call without any more thought.

And she couldn't do it.

As many another woman has done in similar circumstances, Kitty temporized.

"Good evening!" she called huskily into the phone. "I am surrounded by friends."

Would he take the hint and ring off? Or would he...

"Just back, dear!" came the well-loved tones. "You got my letter?"

Another matter to decide! Of course she had received no letter! How could she, kidnapped? Didn't Gordon know she had been missing? She had wanted to ask, but remembering her previous experience when she had almost unspun plans by insisting on speaking when he didn't want to recognize her, she had refrained from letting any of them know that there was any reason why Mr. Platt should have missed her.

She had no time to think. So she told the simple truth.

"No, I didn't get any letter. I have been away for several days."

"Where?" came the rather forceful demand over the phone. Then: "Never mind! You can tell me later."

courage in the face of discouragement. She must be courageous, too...

But it took all her courage to read the letter she found from Gordon dated the fatal Tuesday, the day on which she had looked over a transom and seen him with Edith in his arms. It was very short—"My darling:

"I am suddenly called from the city, and won't be back until the end of the week. I just wanted to say that there is only one woman in my heart, and only one face before my eyes—keep them both safe for me, who loves you."

"GORDON"

Kitty tore the note into tiny pieces. Tears rained down her cheeks, only to be dried by their fiery resentment.

"Oh, har, har!" she cried aloud. Then: "Gordon—Gordon, how could you, how could you?"

It was nearly four in the morning before worn-out nature had its way and Kitty, tormented by love, slipped into slumberland. (TO BE CONTINUED)

Fictitious Earning In Company Whose Head is Missing

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—Fictitious earnings, Assistant Attorney General Washburn said Thursday, have been reported by the Metal & Mining Shares, Inc., the head of whose directorate, Charles V. Bob, is missing. The company also has paid dividends without the knowledge of the stockholders and without the knowledge of most directors of the company, Washburn said, since the stock market crash a year ago.

After this disclosure Washburn, who has charge of the state bureau of securities, conferred with District Attorney Crain with the result that Mr. Crain assigned an assistant to present the evidence obtained to the grand jury.

The assistant attorney general also said he expected to turn over to the federal attorney's office data tending to show the mails were used fraudulently by Metal & Mining Shares, Inc., in Mr. Bob's numerous transactions, principally in disposing of stock outside the state.

The Paris compress, up to Friday, had handled a total of 28,000 sales as against 31,000 at the same date last year. Paris is the concentration point for this section, with most of the cotton pressed here shipped later to Houston.

A bale of cotton that smelled strongly of smoke was placed on the concrete floor of the compress Thursday night and Friday morning small blazes developed, which were readily extinguished. The loss will amount to about 100 pounds and necessitate repacking.

An automobile driven by Otto Rose and a truck driven by Kraft Graves collided at the intersection of Lamar and Thirty-third street Friday morning. The truck belonged to the Paris Compress Co.

Members of the police force were busy Friday tagging cars for violations of the fire lane parking ordinance. Metal signs are up in the various fire lanes. There is now no excuse for violating the law, according to the police officials, who have heretofore been very lenient in this matter.

New Orleans Cotton
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 17. (P)—Bullishness featured the cotton market here Friday and price fluctuations were extremely narrow. Following a slightly easier start on in-different cables which reported local and London losses liquidating, the market advanced 5 to 7 points on the cold weather in the western belt and rather bullish weekly statistics. In the afternoon prices eased off 6 to 8 points on hedge selling and in sympathy with weakness in stocks, but near the end there was a slight rally of 2 to 4 points and the close was steady net unchanged to 4 points down for the day.

New York Cotton
NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (P)—Cotton was comparatively quiet in the market here Friday and prices fluctuated irregularly within a range of 8 or 10 points. Some buying was reported at the opening on relatively steady cables and the outlook for frost in northwestern sections of the belt but it was supplied by southern hedging and prices later eased under selling promoted by the weakness of the stock market.

New December contracts after selling up from 10.31 to 10.37, declined to 10.29 and closed at 10.32 compared with 10.32 at the close of the previous day. The general market closed steady at an advance of 1 point to a decline of 1 point.

Chicago Grain.
CHICAGO, Oct. 17. (P)—Increasing evidence of acutely adverse conditions for huge amounts of unthreshed wheat in Canada did much to turn grain prices upward here Friday. There also were indications of rapidly mounting use of United States wheat as feed for livestock. Illinois reports said farmers who had wheat stored in elevators were hauling it back to farms to meet livestock requirements.

Both wheat and corn after rising about 2c a bushel over the day's bottom level closed unsettled, with wheat 1-1/4 to 7-8c higher than Thursday's finish. Corn closed at 5-8 to 1-1/4c net gain, oats varying from 1-4c decline to 1-4c advance.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, December 75 1-2, 75 1-2; March 79 1-4, 82 1-4; May 81 1-2 to 5-8, 84 1-4 to 3-8. Corn, December 75 1-2 to 5-8, 78 1-4; March 76 7-8, 79 1-2; May 79 3-4 to 7-8, 82 7-8.

Fort Worth Livestock.
FORT WORTH, Oct. 17. (P)—The usual short week end receipts of cattle and calves were posted Friday and the market as a whole was poorly tested, notably steady in all divisions.

Choice heavy fed steers made a top of 10.50. Butcher heifers ranged downward from around 6.75.

Best fat cows sold at 4.85. Butcher cows found an outlet around 3.35-4.00, low cutters 2.50-2.75. Sausage bulls, strong weights were reported up to 4.50.

Good stock steer calves moved out at 7.25, a notable steady price. Good heavy fat calves sold up to 7.00 and weighty averages of the planer grades moved around and under 6.25.

Best truck hogs topped at 9.50 and better grades of light and medium weights sold at 9.25-9.50. Packing hogs held steady at 7.50. A few smooth sorts up to 8.00. Good butcher pigs were reported at 9.00.

Good feeder lambs moved out at 5.00 and some aged fat wethers brought 3.75.

Georgia Lady Tells How She Has Been Benefited by Black-Draught.

Gainesville, Ga.—"I have been taking Theford's Black-Draught for about thirty years," writes Mrs. R. L. Freeman, of 121 Grove Street, this city.

"I used to suffer with constipation. This caused me to have a tired feeling, and very severe headaches, bad taste in my mouth and gas pains. I wouldn't have an appetite, and did not feel equal to my work.

"I found Black-Draught quick to relieve, so I have used it off and on all these years. It is harmless and easy to take. I can recommend it most highly.

The medicine which this Georgia lady mentions is the same Theford's Black-Draught which thousands of men and women have recommended because of the good results obtained from its use.

It is a purely vegetable preparation of selected medicinal herbs and roots. Easy to take—no bad after-effects.

Refuse imitations. Get the genuine, in a yellow package, marked "Theford's."

Would Foil Flood, Drouth, Alike
In Nebraska With Big Reservoirs

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Oct. 17. (P)—An extensive program of impounding the North Platte river to avert floods in spring and prevent drouths in summer has been prepared for the state legislature by Prof. Clark E. Mickey of the University of Nebraska, and army engineers.

It embraces a system of reservoirs in western Nebraska, one of which would be 5 1/2 miles long, 2 1/2 miles wide, and hold 300,000 acre-feet of water.

The project has been ripening for years and was brought to fruition two years ago when Congress acted for flood control in the Mississippi basin following disastrous floods in the south.

The Nebraska legislature appropriated funds for a thorough survey to be presented to it in 1921 and Colorado, Wyoming and Kansas, where similar possibilities for drouth and flood control were seen, were invited to take part in the program.

Losses to the Nebraska corn crop alone were estimated at $75,000,000 this year because of the drouth. While the cost of financing the reservoir project has not been definitely estimated, Prof. Mickey believes that it will be only a comparatively small percentage of the corn crop loss year.

Approximately 2,200,000 acre-feet of water flows down the Platte river at North Platte near the junction of the north and south branches each year.

About three-fourths of the volume passes in the spring when melting snows in western mountain regions usually result in floods which not only do local damage but contribute to the swollen Missouri and Mississippi rivers.

The plan to be submitted to the legislature will recommend that 1,500,000 acre-feet of these flood waters be stored in the spring to be liberated over thousands of acres of parched lands during the summer months.

Tire Business Shows Upturn

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 17.—A daily production schedule 22 per cent greater than August was maintained during September by the tire department of the United States Rubber company. It is planned at the present time to continue this same increased production schedule through October.

The increased schedule is unusual at this time, states J. E. O'Shaughnessy, general manager, because tire production usually tapers off toward the end of August and is at a seasonal low ebb for the remaining months of the year.

The September schedule will be tied with June for the third greatest production month of this year, being exceeded only by April and May, the peak production months for tires.

In spite of these production records, U. S. Tires show an inventory of finished tires on hand, both at Detroit and in the field, of 25 per cent below the figures as of September last year.

Employment statistics at the plant reveal the fact that labor has, during the past year of otherwise general unemployment and labor fluctuations, been maintained at a fairly constant level.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy attributes the increasing production to extension and increasing of the dealer organization and the somewhat upward trend noted in a number of basic lines of business.

Ample Supply of Apples On Hand
For National Apple Week—Oct. 31

There was a time when to enjoy apples one either had to have an orchard of his own or invade his neighbor's.

But the progress of commercial apple growing and distribution has changed that condition and National Apple Week is being celebrated this year from Oct. 31 to Nov. 6, with the assurance that there is a bushel of apples for every person—man, woman or child in the United States.

Although the crop for 1929 is almost 40,000,000 bushels less than that for 1925 it is estimated to be 4,000,000 bushels greater than last year's crop—a total of 146,440,000 bushels being the estimated yield for the entire nation.

Practically one-fourth of this enormous crop is produced in the state of Washington, which actually ships about two-thirds as many apples as all of the states east of the Mississippi river combined.

Washington's position as the "apple box of the Nation" has been due to the particularly favorable conditions of soil and climate which have combined to produce fruit of exceptional quality and thus encouraged the establishment of the orchard industry upon a gigantic scale.

NAMES ALWAYS

STIR MEMORIES

To me one of the most interesting newspaper features carries the title, "About Our Ancestors." People are interested in people; always have been and always will be. Names invariably bring memories dropping out of the past for a parade across the horizon of the present. Asked any old-time druggist what "Knowlton" means to him, and the response would most likely be "Dandeline." Never in the old days were greater sales efforts put behind a standard of proved merit than those which Sterling Products has executed for Dandeline.

One of the outstanding health specialists of America was recently asked: "What can be done for dry and falling hair," and he answered: "Keep the hair and scalp immaculately clean with careful shampooing and rinsing, and use a good hair tonic several times weekly."

It would have been a kindly suggestion if this O. H. S. had specified Dandeline. The autumn newspaper advertising is very impressive and should help druggists sell a lot of this well defined "aid to hair health."

For a number of years Washington orchardists have packed their apples for shipment in "standard" apple boxes, a convenient package for family use. Apples are rigidly graded and carefully sized so that purchasers can tell exactly how many apples each box contains.

Industrial efficiency has increased the general output per employee by one third, and as a result many workers have gone into other fields which provide higher standards of living, the Department of Commerce Yearbook states.

The index of production went up 18 per cent over figures for the base period, computed for 1923-25. An example of the results of this heightened efficiency is the cigar industry, says a recent report by a group of scientists. The introduction of machinery has not only eliminated unsanitary practices like spit-tipping, according to the scientists' findings, but the machinery has also increased the output per man so that quality cigars can be produced at a very cheap price.

Industrial efficiency has increased the general output per employee by one third, and as a result many workers have gone into other fields which provide higher standards of living, the Department of Commerce Yearbook states.

When Aspirin is asked for they always give "Bayer." Inquirers for Milk of Magnesia invariably are handed Phillips Why?

They are pacemakers in their class and backed by millions of dollars spent for continuous publicity which has made "Bayer" and "Phillips" familiar household words in every home where newspapers and magazines are read.
